

Partial-Thickness Upper Extremity Burn Injury

This presentation contains the opinions of and personal techniques practiced by the treating physician. The techniques presented herein are for informational purposes only. The decision of which techniques to use in a particular clinical application lies with the physician based on patient profile, particular circumstances surrounding the procedure, and previous clinical experiences.

General Case Overview

26-year old male with chemical burns sustained to right hand and bilateral upper extremities. Cytal[®] Burn Matrix technology used to manage the wounds.

Initial Injury

Post Cytal Burn Matrix technology application

Six days

Thirty-six days

Initial Injury

Thirty-six days post Cytal Burn Matrix technology application

Initial Injury

Initial Application

Post Cytal Burn Matrix technology application

Six days

Thirty-six days